

Dear Families,

We love feedback. We find it valuable and it helps us improve the quality of care and education for your child.

Educators recognise that families are children's first and most influential teachers. They honour the histories, cultures, languages, traditions and child-rearing practices of families so they can better support children in their care. (EYLF and MTOP)