

Appetites are respected.

Parents and caregivers report that 33% of infants and 52% of toddlers are not always hungry at mealtimes. These behaviours are common and are considered a normal stage of eating development. Source Centre For Community Child Health

Centre Support Pty Ltd
Phone: 1800 440 102
www.centresupport.com.au