

Dear Families,
Please keep us updated about your child's experiences, likes, dislikes and home routines to ensure we can provide the best education and care.

Educators recognise that families are children's first and most influential teachers. They honour the histories, cultures, languages, traditions and child-rearing practices of families so they can better support children in their care.