

Dear Families,

We want to know what your family does in the community so we can extend these valuable learning opportunities with your child.

Educators recognise that families are children's first and most influential teachers. They honour the histories, cultures, languages, traditions and child-rearing practices of families so they can better support children in their care. (EYLF and MTOP)