

Dear Families,
Your cultural background means a lot to us and we want to know more about your family's practices. This helps us create meaningful learning programs for your child.

Educators recognise that families are children's first and most influential teachers. They honour the histories, cultures, languages, traditions and child-rearing practices of families so they can better support children in their care. (EYLF and MTOP)