

Dear Families,
Please feel free to ask about your child's interactions with their educators and friends.

Educators recognise that families are children's first and most influential teachers. They honour the histories, cultures, languages, traditions and child-rearing practices of families so they can better support children in their care. (EYLF and MTOP)