

A child is trying to become a respected member of a community, somebody who knows things. So the main purpose of communication is to belong to a world with other people, with common understanding.

Centre Support